

MOB AT LARAMIE HANGS A TRUSTY

Prisoner in County Jail Lynched.

Six Members Mob Wounded by Convict Before He Was Overpowered.

While Law-Breakers Were Breaking Down Jail Prisoner Attempted to Take His Life.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Aug. 30.—At 5 o'clock last evening Joe Martin was taken from the county jail here and hanged.

Six members of the mob were wounded by the convict before he was overpowered by the mob.

The lynching took place in front of the residence of District Judge Carpenter in the eastern part of the city, where the victim of the mob's vengeance was dragged after he was taken from his cell.

The lynching is the first one that has occurred in Laramie for a number of years, and was caused by the attempt of Martin to kill a girl in the family of the jailer.

Martin, who is colored, was arrested here several months since, charged with a misdemeanor. He was tried, convicted and sentenced to serve a term of six months in the county jail. This term was almost completed and in a few days he would have been at liberty.

During his confinement Martin proved so docile and tractable a prisoner that he was made a trusty. This, of course, gave him access to the family quarters of the jailer.

Employed in the family was a white girl, Della Crouse, by name. She was assisted in her work about the house by Martin. At noon today while at work in the kitchen at the jail Martin made advances to the girl, which she repulsed. This incensed Martin, who grabbed a butcher knife and slashed the girl's face and neck six times, inflicting horrible wounds.

The screams of the girl brought help of the jailer's family and others, and Martin was overpowered, taken into the jail and locked in a cell.

News of Martin's crime spread quickly, and soon a crowd of 200 persons gathered about the jail, anxious to avenge the terrible assault upon the girl. The crowd was finally quieted and dispersed after the officials assured them that Martin should have a speedy trial just as soon as it was known how the wounds of the injured girl would swell.

Later in the afternoon small groups of men discussed the crime, and it was finally decided that death was the only punishment that should be meted out to the black fiend.

Preparations were quietly made. Ladders and hammers and axes were secured, placed in convenient places, and at 8 o'clock last evening a mob of 300 determined men marched to the county jail.

They were met by the Sheriff and other officers, who endeavored to disperse them, but without avail. A demand was made upon the Sheriff for the keys to the jail, but he refused. Members of the mob then corralled the officers and the attack upon the prison was begun. The outer doors were soon battered down and the mob broke or the cell where Martin was confined.

The other prisoners were informed by the mob that they would not be hurt, Martin being the one whom they were after.

Sledges were brought to bear on the door of Martin's cell. This was of steel, and also the cell wherein he was confined, and resisted the efforts to reach him.

Meanwhile Martin's cries could be heard above the blows rained upon his cage by strong men who wielded the sledge hammers. He did not beg for mercy, but his cries were like that of a wild animal brought to bay. Suddenly they ceased and the prisoner, with a curse upon those who sought his life, attempted to kill himself by butting his head against the side of the cage. In this he failed. Then in his desperation he wrenched the iron bed from its fastenings, and with this as a weapon determined to kill his life dearly.

Finally the door yielded to the mob and they rushed into the cell. Martin made a fearful fight with the bed and in a few minutes the mob were more than his severely injured before he was overpowered.

Once in the hands of the mob a rope was placed around his neck and he was dragged through the street until the door of District Judge Carpenter was reached. At this point the mob stopped, and the rope was quickly thrown over a crosspiece on a telephone pole, and he was strung up. Two bullets were fired into his body. These did not produce death and he slowly drifted to death.

After he was known to be dead the mob dispersed and the body was left hanging from the pole for quite a while, until an officer cut it down.

Three thousand people saw the lynching.

WEINSEIMER IS OUT.

Twice Indicted for Extortion, He Resigns From Labor Organization.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Philip Weinseimer, president of the Building Trades Alliance, a union organization who has twice been indicted for extortion, today resigned his leadership and William P. Nason, president of the Reliance Labor Club of Marble Cutters, was elected his successor.

Nason has been for a long time an active factor in the alliance, but he is regarded as one of the more conservative element. Twice recently he and John McAllister have headed committees which have gone to the employers' association in the hope of negotiating a settlement of the building lockout now in force here. Each time they failed because they insisted on a technical recognition of the alliance, a point the employers' association always refused to concede.

In his letter of resignation Weinseimer said he realized that persistence on his part in retaining the office would not only jeopardize the present movement, but would be against the best interests of organized labor. He expressed the feeling that he would be vindicated in the future.

Despite Weinseimer's action, the employers made no headway today in the effort to break the tie-up.

ORDERED TO SHOW CAUSE.

Treasurer Catholic University, Washington, May Be Removed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—In the Supreme court of the District of Columbia today Justice Stafford issued an order directing Thomas E. Waggaman, treasurer of the Catholic university, against whom proceedings in bankruptcy have been filed, to show cause by September 1 why he should not be removed as trustee for certain parties to whom he gave notes for certain moneys invested.

Another phase of the case developed today when the Second National bank, the National Bank of Washington and the National Metropolitan bank, which filed the original proceedings in bankruptcy, petitioned the court to appoint a receiver to take possession of all the assets of Mr. Waggaman and collect and hold the same until further orders. The petitioning creditors offered the court that this action was absolutely necessary for the preservation of the estate of Mr. Waggaman and to the best interest of the case. Accompanying the petition is a letter signed by Mr. Waggaman asking that this action be taken. In the petition it is stated that the debts said to be secured by the securities are very large, being approximately $200,000 and that the value of the securities amounts to more than $100,000.

MAY BE WALK-OUT.

Elevated Road Employees, as Also Subway, Likely to Strike.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Whether or not there will be a strike on the elevated roads and the new subway depends largely on the results of a conference to be held tomorrow morning between Edward P. Bryan, vice-president and general manager of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, and officials of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. The labor men say that the most important of subjects for discussion is the demand that the subway motormen shall receive $3.50 for a nine-hour day.

Fifteen hundred delegates of the two unions have voted unanimously to support the demand of the "L" motormen that the drivers of subway trains shall receive $3.50. The labor men at the conference will include Grand Chief Warren B. Stone and First Assistant Grand Chief J. J. Hurley of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

PLEASED WITH JENKS.

His Tact and Ability Praised by Correspondent of London Times.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The correspondent of the Times at Peking in recording the departure from the Chinese capital of Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks of Cornell University, a member of the United States commission on international exchange, the other members of which were Charles F. Conant and Hugh Hanna, for the United States, highly praises the tact and ability displayed by him in conducting his difficult mission, which has undoubtedly left its mark on the Chinese authorities.

"It is regrettable," says the correspondent, "that Prof. Jenks is obliged to leave when his work is only beginning, for experience teaches that there is often a considerable interval between the Chinese expression of approval and the actual introduction of reform and China is only beginning to realize the vital importance of reform in its currency."

MOB AFTER MURDERER.

Danville, Va., Citizens Will Lynch Him If Captured.

DANVILLE, Va., Aug. 30.—Policeman J. J. Hall was shot tonight by Jack Dillard, a negro, for whom the officers have been searching for a week. Hall will probably die. A mob estimated at 100 is now looking for Dillard and if captured a lynching may result.

William Carter, colored, has been arrested. He was shot through the hand. He was with Dillard at the time of the shooting. Hall has been taken to Chatham, the county seat, for safekeeping. Hall says that he wounded the negro who shot him, which would lead to the supposition that Carter is the guilty man. No trouble is anticipated unless Dillard is arrested.

It is estimated that in Flathead county alone the fires destroyed $25,000 worth of timber.

HOUSTER FILES ANSWER.

Replies in Action Brought by Wisconsin Anti-Third Termers.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 30.—The attorneys for Secretary of State Walter L. Houser filed his answer, with the clerk of the Supreme court this evening in the suit brought against him on August 9 by the nominees of the anti-third term Republican State ticket, headed by Samuel A. Cook, to compel him to place their names in the Republican column on the official ballot and to restrain him from placing the names of the La Follette nominees in that column.

The answer, which is a voluminous document, denies all the allegations upon which the suit rests. The answer claims that of the 1905 delegates to the State convention of the Republican party, delegates were unopposed. The contests were reviewed and the number of delegates said to be in favor of the Governor is 553-1-3.

It is claimed that the national convention had no authority to pass on the regularity of the State convention of Wisconsin, and its decision or that of the credentials committee of the national convention or the convention itself must be considered null and void so far as the party within the State is concerned.

Plans to Form a New Ball League

Salt Lake City to Be Included in Rocky Mountain League Scheme of President Sexton.

After all the dissatisfaction that has been expressed with the team that represents Salt Lake City in the Pacific National Baseball league, the plans of President M. H. Sexton of the Western league to redivide the baseball territory of the country and include Salt Lake and other Western mountain towns in a Rocky Mountain league should meet with the approval of many of the ardent fans here.

Richard Hebb, sporting editor of the St. Joseph News, from St. Joseph, Mo., will arrive in Salt Lake in the next two days to inquire into the situation. He has been commissioned by President Sexton to make a tour of the territory to ascertain what views are held regarding the proposed redivision, and especially to find out what success a new league along these lines would meet.

Butte and Ogden Counted In.

What interests Salt Lake especially is the formation of the Rocky Mountain league. That itself is only a part of President Sexton's plans, for further than that they do not affect this city. It is proposed to include in it Denver, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and one other town on the eastern slope, while Salt Lake City, Ogden, Butte and another on this side are slated to be in the league. Doubtless this has been done without adequate knowledge of the last two named towns. Mr. Hebb is in Denver at the moment and would not meet with much approval, because Denver would be linked with so many smaller towns. It is well known that if Salt Lake and Butte are included it is one of the best baseball towns that could be desired by any one, but Butte has been shown to have a poor support of the game. Ogden would naturally be precluded on account of its small size.

The proposition to connect Salt Lake in a league with Denver and other towns in Colorado is much approved here. Many fans told The Tribune last night that such a plan would not only not only approval but material support. If it were worked out on a sound basis, it would be a great improvement. It was the opinion of an enthusiast who has not missed more than two games during the whole season. But if the league were to include such towns as Ogden and Butte, it is doubted whether any support could be secured.

One serious objection is the distance that would have to be covered. Between Denver and Salt Lake there are hardly any towns that would be entitled to be included in such a league, and the only ones that are feasible are too far from the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains.

Mr. Hebb's arrival is awaited with much interest, and he is expected to bring along with him the president of the Western league expects to form his new redivision.

VIOLATED INJUNCTION.

Santa Fe Striker Is Arrested for Interfering With Employees.

WELLINGTON, Kan., Aug. 30.—Thomas L. Wilson, vice-president of the International Order of Machinists, was tried here today for an attack on a Santa Fe workman in Arkansas City. No verdict has yet been returned by the jury.

Today fifteen non-union machinists arrived in charge of Santa Fe detective W. H. Johnson and Walter Emerson met them at the depot and tried to induce them to work. For the former they were once arrested for violating the injunction against interfering with the company's work.

Wilson is a good officer and has held the place for two terms. This seems the most important argument against him. Geo. is the present deputy clerk and Sorenson has been teaching in Provo City for a number of years. Geo. expects to land the position, but Sorenson has some strong support from the various towns and will put up a good fight.
